

CTI-Certification & Beyond

Mentoring, Coaching & Co-Support for Coaching Students
& Igniting a New Business

'Certification is a wonderful journey. I loved it!'

Certification is challenging – it's a steep learning curve along which you will enrich your coaching and personal skills. During the process you will need a coach and you will have lots of questions. So a mentor will come in handy too. At the same time, you will need clients, and you might want to develop your own business.

I would love to support you all the way; during certification and beyond!
